SALEM, January 6th, 1864

A Little Plain Talk.

The last Statesman, under the above caption, contains some suggestions in regard to the present duty of patriotic men in Oregon, in which we cordially concur It says

> We trust that we may have a general exhibition of magnanimous devotion to the paramount interests of the country sacrifice of personal considerations, and self abnegation that will do all and suffer all for the Union cause A local election is approaching, in which we are not alone interested The men of other states who have faithfully upheld the government for us, have a right now to ask that we shall not turn upon them a cold shoulder They have a right to expect that we shall follow their noble example in deserting old political parties, for the sake of preserving what there was valuable of their principles, through the preservation of the Union The man who will be nothing but a democrat in his country's great peril was never a democrat—only a base pretender The man who will be nothing but a republican, must rest under the same imputation. The true men of the time are those who are willing to give help and take help for the Union, of all who offer it in good faith Patriotism is above politics, patriots will save the country, if not hindered too much by politicians and demagogues Let the latter take back seats, and all will end well There is hope for the future in the honest unity of the friends of the government their distraction must result in greater peril, if not total shipwreck

Nothing is more important than a decided victory over those who are sympathising with treason and acting in opposition to the Government, and we do not believe there is any occasion for mischievous divisions in the ranks of the friends of the Union, if a frank and fair spirit is manifested on the part of all those who have heretofore acted with different political parties. Of course, it is natural that there should be preferences based on old associations, but these ought to be subordinate to the general good. As Republicans, we are ready to yield them, when we are satisfied that by such action, we can accomplish a patriotic end. We shall ask the same of those who have been Democrats, and shall especially insist that when they claim support for their favorites, they do not make us for the future give our approval and votes, to any whose fidelity to the Union is dubious The Pacific coast has four Senators, all of whom are indebted to Republican votes for their seats, and not even one of them is a Republican, and all but one have such a reputation as to loyalty, that they are classed by leading papers in the country as Copperheads Republicans who compose the great majority of the Union party in this State and in California, justly feel aggrieved at the want of good faith which has answered their magnanimous surrender of these high positions, and they will demand if Democrats are to be elected, that they shall be men of undoubted, unsuspected patriotism, and of the best ability the State can furnish. It is not to be denied that there is an anxious solicitude in the minds of very many loyal citizens through the State, but by [illegible] the Union party may be made the game of crafty politicians, who are more adroit in making nominations than they are faithful in complying with pledges We have received many letters from prominent gentlemen in different counties, expressing their fear in this respect, but we have declined publishing them, in the hope and belief, that the loyal people of Oregon by their representatives in convention, will do what will harmonize conflicting claims, and will best secure the triumph of patriotism over treason If this is accomplished all good men will be satisfied, and to make sure of such a result, all good men should actively labor—not for the success of candidates because of their old party names —but for the nomination of those, whose fidelity to Union principles is sure because it is based upon patriotism, and not upon a desire to be on the popular side, for the purpose of gaining office thereby

MURDER —Mr Brunn, one of the proprietors of the Port Ludlow Hotel, and recently of the "International" at Placerville Idaho was stabbed and killed by a man named Kelley, on Christmas Eve the murderer is now in custody at Port Townsend Mr Brunn was a very quiet man and was well liked in the upper country He leaves a wife and one child

New Scheme of Treason

The Northern traitors, who recently took part in the Democratic caucus at Washington, have invented a new bomb shell in behalf of the rebellion, which they propose to throw into the ranks of the Union army All at once, they profess to feel a deep interest in the brave men, whom they have been in the habit of denouncing as "Black Republican hireling—Old Abe's mercenaries—Abolition voters," and such like and they are anxious that the pay of soldiers and sailors shall be given to them in gold instead of currency If this care of the comfort of the Navy and Army was the fruit of any honest interest in their behalf, we should praise the patriotic zeal which dictated such action but coming from such a source, we cannot help being satisfied that it is another Democratic trick to sow dissension, to embarrass the Government, and to try to recover the confidence and regain the political support of those soldiers who were once Democrats Of course, its authors have no idea that the scheme will be carried out—if it was, they would be the first and the loudest to denounce it, as needless and wasteful extravagance, but they imagine that the report will go forth as it probably will, that the Democrats in Congress are disposed to be more liberal than the Union members, and upon this rumor, they will rest their claim to soldiers' votes It is the old story of the Devil's experiment upon the high mountain—we hope the Army will appreciate the motive that prompts it and unitedly say to the tempters, "get behind us ye Satans, for you are an offence to every patriot"

THE BATTLE HYMN. —The Golden Era, in an interesting article on National Songs, thus alludes to one of the finest Anthems in the English language.

> When Julia Ward Howe, of Boston sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic, she had a more difficult task than the fiery De Lisle, who flung from his South rampart the intellectual song that replaced the wild frenzy of the Carmagnole, and found the melody and rhythm rising together in his throbbing brain Our Miriam of the colder clime achieved a greater triumph A camp meeting hymn—the echo of further sense traced back to the battle psalms of Scotch Covenanters—a chant, whose deep chords muffled a sorrow which the oppressed bondsmen were quick to appreciate and whose martial beat Northern soldiers marching through Baltimore were equally quick to learn —this grotesque clumsy marrish John Brown Anthem was destined to bear up the Battle Hymn of the Republic No longer the imperfect, inarticulate expression of a hopeless faith but the broad comprehensive outcry of the Nation Replete with the hidden mysteries and meaning of our struggle it is the historian's text Advancing with the steady march of a mighty principle it is the soldier's chant In the deep truthfulness of its faith it is the Christian's hymn and even the pharisaic reed that interdicts from its social gatherings Hail Columbia and Yankee Doodle may listen to the voice of her who sings
> In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea
> With a glory in his bosom which transfigures you and me
> As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free—
> While God is marching on!

FROM THE ARMY IN TEXAS —An incident occurred recently illustrative of the straits to which the rebels are pushed to get information of our movements A rebel officer was prowling about our advanced line, and seeing one of our men, whom he supposed to be a straggler from camp on the opposite side of the bayou displayed a white handkerchief, and intimated that he wanted the blue coat to come over and speak with him Our man, a Sergeant ready enough for an adventure and willing to have a little fun at "rebel" expense stripped himself and swam over when something like the following conversation occurred

Rebel— How many men have you over there?"

Sergeant—"We have got enough for the work we have to do"

Rebel— What General commands them?

Sergeant— One who has played Magruder a Yankee trick, and is capable of playing him another"

Rebel—"Is it Banks?"

Sergeant—" Do you think he is the only General we have that answers that description?

Rebel— There is no use in your talking in that way why don't you speak candidly?

Sergeant—" I am not apt to speak otherwise"

Rebel— Well, then, tell me what your General is trying to do?"

Sergeant—"He is trying to do what he is bound to accomplish and not half try—to conciliate all you rebels"

Rebel [getting out of patience]—"Tell me what you have done with the prisoners you took at the Pass the other day?"

Sergeant—" We have taken good care of them, as we shall with all the rest of you before long"

The rebel exasperated [illegible] that he could learn nothing from the Sergeant [illegible] thinking there would be no witness to his dastardly cowardice pulled out his revolver and commenced shooting at the Sergeant wounding him severely in the foot and leg before he could get out of his way in the water

The Sergeant had, however, left two of his comrades concealed from the rebel by a sand hill on our side of the bayou who saw the whole affair and before the villain had fired the third shot from his revolver he had fallen a victim to his own treachery by a ball from the rifle of one of our Sergeant's comrades.

The Cincinnati Gazette's Chattanooga correspondent relates the following sad incident

> On the evening of the 28th of November, before the fight in Lookout Valley, Adjutant Mudge, of the 33d Massachusetts, handed a letter to his friend, Lieut Thompson asking him to mail it During that night the bloody fight occurred in which the brave young Mudge fell while gallantly inspiring his men with courage by his example and words The next morning the letter was still in the hands of his friend, there having been no opportunity to send it out Seeing it was directed to his parents, he opened and read it Noble son! here was a letter full of hope, the generous lovely spirit that had made the writer a favorite with the whole regiment, full of minute and beautiful descriptions, which would edify and delight his far off parents, brothers and sisters when gathered around the old fireside at evening And above all it glowed with promises of seeing them again, of bringing them such mementoes of his Western marches as he would most prize, trophies from the war worn mountains of Tennessee—alas his grave After reading this letter, his friend wrote at the bottom Your son was killed last night, (28th) sealed and sent it, at once the messenger of joy and bitter sorrow

LOYAL —We have stated before that the Irish News, printed at San Francisco, was a loyal Irish American paper, and worthy of the support of loyal people. In proof of this we copy the following from its New Year's peroration

> The blood shed in the American contest for American unity will fall like dew in all future time to moisten and fertilize the soil, and grow flowers of rare beauty to adorn the future of our United and glorious Republic [illegible] will make the ground upon which it falleth [illegible] traitor [illegible] to live The valuable lessons of the past year [illegible] the arts [illegible] [illegible] We have seen that freedom [illegible] the freedom of Americans [illegible] [illegible] Ireland [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and fill up the ranks Circles [illegible] in all the cities towns [illegible] where they [illegible] not

MR HENDERSON of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, informs us that navigation is still closed above the Dalles, and is likely to be so for some time He learned from a man who came out last friend month, that the river was frozen from Grand Ronde Landing to the mouth of the DesChutes

LAST COUNSEL OF DOUGLAS —Below we're publish the principal portions of the letter of the late Senator Douglas written on the 10th of May 1860—the last letter he ever wrote What a bitter commentary it is upon the conduct of those who once professed to be his friends and who still assert that they are Democrats Let Douglas decide whether they are or not Let true Democrats read and ponder what he says

> IN VIEW OF THIS STATE OF FACTS THERE WAS BUT ONE PATH OF DUTY LEFT TO PATRIOTIC MEN. It was not a party question nor a question involving partisan policy it was a question of Government or no government country or no country and hence it became the imperative duty of every friend of constitutional liberty to rally to the support of our common country its Government and flag as the only means of checking the progress of the revolution and of preserving the union of the States
> I am unable to answer your questions as to the policy of Mr Lincoln and his Cabinet I am not in their confidence as you and the country ought to be aware I am neither the supporter of the partisan policy nor apologist for the errors of the Administration My previous relations remain unchanged but I trust the time will never come when I shall not be willing to make any sacrifice of personal feeling and party policy for the honor and integrity of my country
> I know of no mode by which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his loyalty to his country as by sustaining the flag the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances and under every Administration regardless of party politics against all assailants at home and abroad THE COURSE OF CLAY AND WEBSTER TOWARD THE ADMINISTRATION OF GEN JACKSON IN THE DAYS OF NULLIFICATION PRESENTS A NOBLE AND WORTHY EXAMPLE FOR ALL TRUE PATRIOTS
> At the very moment when that fearful crisis was precipitated upon the country partisan strife between Whigs and Democrats was quite as bitter and relentless as now between Democrats and Republicans The gulf which separated party leaders in those days was quite as broad and deep as that which now separates the Democracy from the Republicans But the moment an enemy arose in our midst plotting the dismemberment of the Union and the destruction of the government the voice of partisan strife was hushed in patriotic silence One of the brightest chapters in the history of our country will record the fact that during this eventful period the great leaders of the Opposition sinking the partisan in the patriot rushed to the support of the Government and became its ablest and bravest defenders against all assailants until the conspiracy was crushed and abandoned, when they returned to their positions as party leaders upon political issues
> These acts of patriotic devotion have never been deemed evidences of infidelity or political treachery on the part of Clay and Webster to the principles and organization of the old Whig party Nor have I any apprehension that the firm and unanimous support which the Democratic leaders and masses are now giving to the Constitution and the Union will ever be deemed evidence of infidelity to Democratic principles or want of loyalty to the organization and creeds of the Democratic party If we hope to regain and perpetuate the ascendency of our party, we should never forget that a man CANNOT BE A TRUE DEMOCRAT UNLESS HE IS A LOYAL PATRIOT
> With the sincere hope that these my convictions may coincide with those of my friends I am very truly, yours, STEPHEN A DOUGLAS

WOMAN SHOWS IN RUSSIA —We have our baby shows—or rather Barnum has—but what would our fair ones say to a Woman Fair—a show of pretty girls? A custom has long prevailed in St Petersburg Russia which is nothing more or less than an exhibition of marriageable women, or girls, for the purpose of obtaining them husbands We do not recommend its importation, but give it as one of the curious customs belonging to a ruder state of society and which is dying out in Russia under the influence of more enlightened views of the true character and position of woman The show is thus described

> "On Whit Sunday afternoon the Summer Garden a place of popular resort in St Petersburg was thronged with bachelors and maidens looking out for wives and husbands respectively The girls put on their best adornments and these were sometimes more costly than would seem to be suitable for persons in humble life, were it not that this kind of pride is much cherished among the peasantry in many countries Bunches of silver tea spoons a large silver ladle or some other household luxury were in many instances held in the hand, to denote that the maiden could bring something valuable to her husband The young men, on their part, did not fail to look their best The maidens were accompanied by their parents, or by some elder member of their family in order that everything might be conducted in a decorous manner The bachelors strolling and sauntering to and fro, would notice the maidens as they passed and the maidens would blushingly try to look their best Supposing a young man was favorably impressed with what he saw, he did not immediately address the object of his admiration, but had a little quiet talk with one of the seniors, most probably a woman He told her his name, residence, and occupation, he gave a brief inventory of his worldly goods naming the number of roubles (if any) which he had been able to save On his side he asked questions one of which was sure to relate to the amount of dowry promised for the maiden The woman with whom this conversation was held was often no relative to the maiden but a sort of marriage broker or saleswoman who conducted these delicate negotiations either in friendliness or for a fee If the references on either side were unsatisfactory, the colloquy ended without any bargain being struck and, even if favorable nothing was immediately decided Many suitors for the same girl might probably come forward in this way In the evening a family conclave was held concerning the chances of each maiden at which the offer of each bachelor was calmly considered chiefly in relation to the question of roubles The test was very little other than that the highest bidder shall be the purchaser A note was sent to the young man whose offer was deemed most eligible and it was very rarely that the girl made any objection to the spouse thus selected for her"

FRAUDS TO BE PUNISHED —There seems to be a disposition on the part of the authorities of the War Department to make an effort to punish some of the many scoundrels who have been robbing the Government and perpetrating frauds as contractors The detective force is engaged in ferreting out evidence against these men, and bringing the facts out in form which will, if parties are prosecuted, lead to their certain conviction The argus eyes of the detective force have long been upon these men and it is no difficult task to "work up" the cases or "turn up" the guilty parties

Indeed so perfect has been the system inaugurated by Colonel Baker, and so earnestly have his skilled detectives labored since their appointment, that there are few crimes on the part of Government agents and contractors which cannot be brought from their concealment and the guilty parties confronted with the most conclusive evidence of their peculations Those who fancy that, because Col Baker's department is in a measure abolished there are no secret officers of the law in the employ of the Government may wake up to a realizing sense of their error some fine day —New York Commercial December 7th

DIVORCES —The subject of divorces has at last received a quietus in the Washington Territorial Legislature The committee to whom the first case of the present session was referred have returned it with the recommendation "that it do not pass" accompanied by the draft of a memorial to Congress praying that the Organic Act be so amended as to forever close the doors against such a question The memorial was passed almost unanimously

A HORRID HINT —The rebels are getting, morally, "no better very fast" The other day the Richmond Examiner coolly proposed to put our prisoners where "hunger and cold couldn't hurt them" now its neighbor, the Whig, determined not to be outdone in zeal for the cause of darkness in general and the cause of JEFF DAVIS in particular, hints at the advisability of murdering Union prisoners Lest we should seem to do injustice to this Christian spirited print we give it the benefit of its own words

> "What soldier will like to see his own flesh and blood turned into paupers for the sake of pampering Yankees? The more Yankees sent to Richmond, the sooner will our women and children be compelled to beg their daily bread We do not blame the Yankee Government for its course everything is fair in war But we repeat, the fact that no more prisoners are to be exchanged is very suggestive especially to Southern soldiers who do not like long years of confinement, and who have families not accustomed to the pangs of hunger or hardships and upon any of the Poorhouse"

The animus of the above cannot be mistaken The hint is so broad that the most dull witted cannot fail to catch it The thought of the writer, expressed in plain English, is simply this "Confederate soldier! Remember that every Yankee you capture takes so much bread from the mouths of your wife and little ones. Don't be squeamish don't stand on pity or humanity, act like a sensible barbarian, and don't take any more prisoners Bread is dear and cold steel is cheap, live men are troublesome, and dead men need no rations"

Will the brutal suggestion be heeded? We hope and pray not,—but if the wicked counsel should prevail, and a single instance of the massacre of Union prisoners proved upon the rebels, a spirit of vengeance would be aroused from one end of the North to the other that would find no rest until the crime had been washed out in the river of Southern blood The men of the loyal states are patient and long suffering, but their wrath, once kindled by such acts of gratuitous atrocity, would become a consuming fire that no human hand could stay —Albany Journal

ANTIQUITY OF MAN —Sir Charles Lyell the distinguished geologist, lately produced a treatise on the antiquity of man He infers, from recent researches and discoveries of implements in various parts of Europe, that man may have lived on the earth thousands of centuries before the era of his advent according to common belief France, England, Denmark and Switzerland were once peopled by a race which used flint hatchets and arrow heads like the old North American Indians After them came a race which used implements of bronze and again were these succeeded by a race which used implements of iron The relics of the old races found in Switzerland are similar in most respects to those found in our Indian mounds In one case Sir Charles Lyell shows the section of an ancient hut, which had been built on the Scottish seacoast It had been submerged by the sea for so long a period that sixty feet of marine strata had formed over it, and after this, by some convulsion or gradual upheaval of the earth, it was elevated to its former position out of the sea This hut affords evidence of having been erected in a far more remote pre historic period, subsequent discoveries however, may modify this conclusion It is supposed by some that at a remote period, America and Europe were connected by land Prof Agassiz has arranged a collection of the weapons and relics obtained from Switzerland in the Museum at Cambridge, Mass They are similar to the stone arrows and spear heads and pottery so frequent in various parts of this continent

A MISCALCULATION —In December, 1861, Mr Toombs, in a conversation which is reported in the Atlantic Monthly, said that wars rarely brought into the field more than a tenth of the adult male population, and estimated the whole number of voters in the United States at four millions, he concluded that, in the event of a struggle between the North and South, not more than four hundred thousand soldiers would be called out on both sides

The loss of life, in battle and by camp disease, he estimated at one tenth of the soldiers, or forty thousand —a mere bagatelle —and especially as he said, that those men "must die anyhow"

If Mr Toombs was to make figures to day, he would make very different ones Four times four hundred thousand soldiers are in the field At least twice forty thousand men perished in battle or by disease in the single four months campaign on the Peninsula

No body can set bounds to the range and waste of war It becomes a raging fire wholly beyond the control of those who kindle it and not unfrequently involving them in its destructive sweep

WE THINK THERE IS no Medicine so efficacious in removing humors from the blood as SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP It is recommended by Physicians in all parts of the country, for the cure of Scrofula, etc Pimples or sores indicate that the system is out of order Unless something is done to cleanse the blood of these impurities, the result may be in a more serious disease, such as Scrofula, Syphilis etc Those who wish to find a most efficacious remedy and yet have no confidence in Patent Medicines generally, will never regret a trial of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup

WAR AMONG THE TRIBES —There is a famous resort for all siwashes, just below the Marion Field House, and night before last it was the scene of a bloody encounter between representatives of the Spokane and Siletz tribes. About noon yesterday the officers were apprised that hostilities had been going on in that quarter, and they soon started with a posse to interrupt the engagement Arriving upon the field they found the dead and wounded, but the warriors had fled The facts were obtained from a non combatant and were interpreted to us about as follows Previous to the fight the Siletz camp had been made hideously noisy from the effect of bad whisky, which had been retailed to them by some generous christian, who has an interest in the speedy decay of inferior races, and while in a crazy spree they went over to the Spokane camp and kicked up a muss The Spokanes visited their neighbors in retaliation when "blood letting" began in earnest, resulting in the demolition of several wigwams the death of a Siletz, and mortally wounding a Spokane No arrests were made, and the county is saved from an expense that threatened it at noon yesterday. There is no use in moralizing over such subjects as this, but we will say this much—that the man who sold them the whisky that commenced the row is a bigger beast than any of them.

A DULL DAY.—Portland once in a while has a dull day, as well as other places, and yesterday may be set down as emphatically one of them The day broke with intense moisture, which brought us back to the time when it was no unusual thing to have all rain, and reminded us very forcibly that the sunshine and pleasant days we have so far enjoyed in commencement of the new year, do not altogether belong to this latitude, and we may as well take our umbrellas along, when we walk out Only one boat was to be seen along the wharf in front of the city all day; no loading or unloading, even of a scow The truck men, idly waiting on the streets for a job, their horses shivering in the cold rain, were as impatient as can well be imagined. By way of exercising his team, we noticed one of them driving down Front street with our worthy sheriff, not alone, on a pleasure (?) trip. Taken all together yesterday was the dullest, wettest day Portland has seen this year.

FROM BELPASSI —Hon. Joseph Engle, of Belpassi, Marion county, called upon us yesterday and gave us the facts of a move in the right direction, to aid the Sanitary Fund. The citizens there contemplate celebrating the birth day of Washington, under the auspices of their Literary Society, (which bears the name of Washington,) and are making every preparation for a grand festival Distinguished speakers have been invited to be present and discourse upon "The Birth and Life of Washington," and the subject of "The Sanitary Commission" Tickets will be sold and the entire proceeds donated to the Sanitary Fund

THE MISSING BARK —The Iwanowna, Capt. Field, which sailed from San Francisco over a month ago, with a cargo of salt for this port, has not been heard of yet It is possible she may have been lost, but Richards & McCraken, for whom she was employed, still have a hope that she will arrive safe, knowing that she took four months, recently, to make the trip from San Quentin to San Francisco Better late than never.

REPORTED DROWNING —A report was current along Front street last evening to the effect that two klootchmen and a siwash had been capsized in a skiff, opposite the upper end of town, yesterday afternoon, and one of the former drowned. We could trace the report to no authentic source, hence cannot confirm it.

ON THE WAY ACCORDING TO CONTRACT —The Fair Play, that new and trim built little craft for the Cowlitz river trade, had her machinery all set, and was expected to leave for her "home" last evening, thus making her trial trip, and filling the provisions of her charter, both with the same head of steam Should there be any "screws loose," Mr. Nation will give them an extra twist any time.

NO. 2'S DRILL —It may not be generally known that when a notice of Multnomah No 2 appears, calling for drill, that they comply with it, in spite of the weather. This comes from having a cistern under their house, and without moving the machine the "boys" can man the brakes and "shake her up"

NEW WHAT CHEER —Mr O Connor of the What Cheer House has become proprietor of three buildings on the levee, opposite Northrup & Co's, and is now engaged in erecting upon them a third story, which will be completed in a short time, when the What Cheer will occupy new quarters

THEATRICAL —The American drama of the Seven Clerks or the Three Thieves, and the Denouncer, together with a dance by Miss Minnie Gillespie, and a favorite farce, are on the bill for to morrow evening at Willamette Theatre

TELEGRAPH WIRE — About 125 coils of wire belonging to the Oregon Telegraph Company, is at the wharf of the steamship company, awaiting shipment to the interior, where soon it will serve to furnish us with lightning from the south and east

THE SENATOR made her first trip to Oregon City yesterday and is said to have exceeded the Company's expectations The Rival has for the present been laid up

NO CONNECTION —Owing to the condition of the streams above, we could get nothing in the mails, south of Corvallis, last night.

Look Out for the Women.—Young man! keep your eyes peeled when you are after the women. If you bite at the naked hook you are green. Is a pretty dress or form s attract ye? Or a pretty face even? [illegible] are of no sort of consequence. A pretty face will grow old. Paint will wash off. The sweet smile of the flirt will give way to the scowl of the termagant. The neat form will be pitched into dirty calico. Another and a far different being will take the place of the lovely goddess who smiled sweet smiles and ate your sugar candy.

Keep your eyes peeled, boy, when you are after the women. If the little dear is cross and scolds at her mother in the back room, you may be sure that you will get particular fits all around the house. If she apologizes for wiping dishes, you will need a girl to fan her. If she blushes when found at the wash tub with her sleeves rolled up, be sure she is of the Codfish aristocracy—little breeding and little sense. If you marry a gal who knows nothing but to commit murder upon the piano, you have got the poorest piece of furniture ever got up. Find the one whose mind is right, and then pitch in. Don't be hanging round like a sheep thief, as though ashamed to be seen in the day time, but walk up like a chicken to the dough, and ask for the article like a man.

Why Gen Hunter was Removed.—An Eastern correspondent relates the following story:

Apropos of Hilton Head Department, I must relate an incident in Gen. Hunter's last interview with the President after his removal from that post. Gen. Hunter called on Mr. Lincoln and said:

"I come here, Mr. President, to ask if my efforts in the Department of the South had met your approval?"

President—"Certainly, General."

Gen. Hunter—"Is there anything which I should have done, that I have left undone?"

President—"Nothing, General."

Gen. H.—"Then my course has been entirely satisfactory?"

President—"Yes, General."

Gen. H.—(Indignantly rising and approaching Mr. L.) "Then, Mr. President, I would like to know why I have been removed?"

President—"I will tell you why, General. A friend of mine, in whom I have great confidence, told me the other day that he knew of a man who could take Charleston, and I asked him if he really knew of such a man, to bring him here at once, for I wanted the pesky place taken!"

Gen. Hunter is now endeavoring to learn the name of the President's confidential adviser.

A Generous Justice.—A Dutch farmer clad in the ermine of a justice, had his first marriage in this way. He said to the man:

"Vell, you vants to be marrit, do you?"

"Yes," answered the man.

"Vell, you loves dish woman so good as any voman you have ever seen?"

"Yes."

Then addressing the woman he said:

"Vell, do you loves dis man so better as any man you have ever seen?"

She hesitated a little, and he repeated:

"Vell, vell, do you like him so vell as to be his vife?"

"Yes, yes," she answered.

"Vell, den, dat is all any reasonable man can expect, so you are both marrit. I pronounce you man and vife."

The man then drew out his pocket book, and asked the justice what was to pay.

"Nothing at all; you are velcome to it if it vill do you any good."

With the Author's Compliments.—An anecdote relative to the late Professor Wilson is just now circulating. When the suitor for the hand of his daughter had gained the lady's approbation, he was, of course, referred to "papa." Having stated his case the young gentleman was directed to desire the young lady to come to her father, and doubtless her obedience was prompt. Professor Wilson had before him for review some book, on the fly leaf of which was duly inscribed, "with the author's compliments." He tore this out, pinned it to his daughter's dress, solemnly led her to the young lover, and went back to his work. No doubt the young gentleman fully appreciated the gift conveyed in such a technical manner.

Talleyrand's Famous Mot.—The saying of the crafty French politician that language was given to man to enable him to conceal his thoughts, is traced back by the London Guardian, to a sermon preached by Dr. Robert South, in Westminster Abbey, on the 30th April, 1676, on "The Wisdom of the World." It occurs thus: "Men speak with designs of mischief, and therefore they speak in the dark. In short, this seems to be the true inward judgment of all our politic sages, that speech was given to the ordinary sort of men whereby to communicate their mind, but to the wise whereby to conceal it."

This world is a serious world, and human life and business are also serious matters, not to be trifled with nor cheated by sham and hypocrisies, but to be dealt with in all truth, soberness and sincerity. No one can thus deal with it who is not himself possessed of these qualities, and the result of a life is the test of what virtue there is in it. False men leave no mark. It is truth alone which builds the masonry of the world—which founds empires and builds cities, and establishes laws, commerce and civilization.—Atlantic Monthly.

A Tear of Pity.—A letter from out west from a pious individual says: "Dear brother, I have got one of the handsomest farms in the State, and have it nearly paid for. Crops are good, and prices were never better. We have had a most glorious revival of religion in our church, and both of our children (the Lord be praised!) are converted. Father got to be rather an incumbrance, and last week I sent him to the poor house."

Base Libel.—A merchant generally "shuts up" at sunset. His wife isn't apt to shut up before she falls to sleep.

An Amusing Adventure.—The following amusing adventure is related as having been experienced some years ago, by [illegible] Mrs. Harris [illegible] Ohio, a well known [illegible] place.

Hearing [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. O. [illegible] to listen [illegible] [illegible] as the suppose [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the position she had assumed.

At [illegible] breaking up of the meeting it was found that [illegible] was in progress, the rain coming down merrily [illegible] the lecture [illegible] Mr. Otis without umbrella [illegible] [illegible] Something must be done [illegible] still falling, and twilight rapidly approaching, at this moment a gentleman with an umbrella appeared [illegible] "My good friend [illegible] to the [illegible]." Mrs. [illegible] with great pleasure [illegible] It is said [illegible] since.—Boston [illegible]

Brevity.—It is said of the three most influential members of the Convention that framed the Constitution of the United States, that in all the debates of that body not one of them made a speech of more than twenty minutes. We have good authority for saying that Alexander Hamilton, although [illegible] among the [illegible] [illegible] his rival, Aaron Burr, not more than [illegible] and [illegible] A judge who was intimately acquainted with Burr and his practice confirmed this statement, adding that within his knowledge this advocate repeatedly and successfully disposed of cases involving a large amount of property in half an hour. "Indeed," said he, "on one occasion he talked to the jury seven minutes in such a manner that it took me on the bench half an hour to straighten them out." He added, "I once asked him, 'Colonel Burr, why cannot lawyers always save the time and spare the patience of the court and jury by dwelling only upon the most important points in their case?' To this he replied, 'Sir, you demand the greatest faculty of the human mind—selection.'" He is well known to have been one of the most effective advocates in his time, and in this matter, if nothing else, he deserves to be imitated and studied. We refer to a single foreign example, an eminent English barrister.

I once asked Sir James Scarlet, says Buxton, "what was the secret of his pre-eminent success as an advocate. He said that he took care to press home the one principal point of the case, without much regard to the others. He also said that he knew the secret of being short. 'I find,' said he, 'that when I exceed half an hour I am always doing mischief to my client. If I drive into the heads of the jury unimportant matter, I drive out matter more important I had before lodged there.'" We commend this method and his reason for it, not only to the ministry, but as urgently to lawyers and members of Congress.

"India Rubber" Preachers.—The New York Observer thinks there is a "hankering" in the churches now for sermons startling, high colored and exaggerated. It says:

There is now a great demand for smart preachers. The question is not whether a preacher is pious, prayerful, faithful, sound in faith, and a winner of souls—one who rightly divides the Word of Truth and gives to every man his portion in due season; all this is behind the times and old fogy. Is he smart? That's the question. Does he stretch the india rubber to its utmost tension, and hammer out the precious grain of gold so thin that it has but one side? Can he do a splendid business on a small capital? Does he sparkle well? O, then he is an angel standing in the sun!

Didn't Steal the Turkeys.—A story is told of Dick, a darkey in Kentucky, who was a notorious thief, so vicious in this respect that all the thefts in the neighborhood were charged to him. On one occasion Mr. Jones, an adjoining neighbor of Dick's master, called and said that Dick must be sold out of the country, for he had stolen all of his (Mr. Jones's) turkeys. Dick's master could not think so. The two however went into the field where Dick was at work, and accused him of the theft. "You stole Mr. Jones's turkeys," said the master. "No, I didn't, massa," responded Dick. The master still persisted. "Well," at length said Dick, "I tell you, massa, I didn't steal them turkeys, but last night when I went across Mr. Jones's pasture, I saw one of your rails on de fence, so I brought home de rail, and when I come to look dere was nine turkeys on de rail."

The Effect of [illegible] Culture on the Russians.—We have [illegible] [illegible] in St. Petersburg [illegible] that the reception extended to the Russian naval officers in this country is producing the most gratifying results in St. Petersburg. "Go where I may," says the writer, "it is the theme of conversation—alike in the clubs, in the theatre, in the cafes, and upon the [illegible]." The writer tells [illegible] with Prince Gortschakoff, with which he had been honored [illegible] [illegible] the surprise of the writer was Prince Gortschakoff's [illegible] to have known nothing.—*N. AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK.

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1856.

[illegible] are the best cathartic [illegible] [illegible] Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. Co., MICH., Nov. 15, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec. 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
